BLUE GRASS LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING

At the recent meeting of the managers and board of directors of the Blue Grass League, held in the office of the Paris Commercial Club, all the teams were represented, and President Thomas Russell, of Maysville, presided.

The meeting was called primarily to straighten out the matter of contracts so that President Russell might be acquainted with the releases of the various clubs. Anticipating the championship games at the end of the meeting, Harry G. Hoffman, of Mt. Sterling, introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

"No player not under contract on September 15, 1922, shall be eligible to play in the post-season championship series. Contracts to be on file in the office of President Thos. M. Russell, in Maysville, not later than September 15."

President Russell announced that the Maysville team is making arrangements to play a series of post-season games with the Knoxville, Tenn., team. Paris fans are enthusiastic over the probability of members of the 1911 Blue Grass League team being secured to play three games in Paris with the Mammoth at the close of the present season. All of the 1911 team, with the exception of Manager McKernan, deceased, and Poole, can be secured, and it is almost a certainty that the deal will be made.

The resignation of Thomas M. Russell as president of the League, which was presented at a previous meeting, was not accepted by the representatives of the League clubs, and he was prevailed upon to continue the work he has accomplished, during the remainder of the season.

The match between Collier Dawes and Bob Dalzell, which was left uncompleted from Tuesday, was resumed Wednesday afternoon, when Dawes was returned the victor in scores of 6-3 and 7-5. Margaret Lavin defeated Emily Fithian by 6-1 and 6-3 scores.

PRESBYTERIAN EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN PROGRESSING

Presbyterian leadership was well represented at the Blue Hue dinner to church officers and their wives Thursday night at the First Presbyterian church. The object of the dinner was stated by the toastmaster, Judge Emmett M. Dickson, to get the Presbyterian officers of Paris together and tell them what this movement meant to Paris and the entire State of Kentucky. Judge Dickson stated that "this movement is a permanent investment to be made by the united churches and is one of the greatest opportunities ever offered Presbyterians of Paris to do their part in the great cause for Christian education."

Dr. John C. Acheson, President of the Kentucky College for Women, was one of the speakers of the evening. Dr. Acheson is known throughout Kentucky and the Presbyterian church as an authority on Christian education. Dr. Acheson stressed the crying need of Christian education in Kentucky to-day. He said, in the course of his remarks, that "there are three problems that face America to-day educationally. The presence of illiteracy, the need of intellectual leadership and a growing demand for character that is buttressed by all the christian virtues." He further stated that "the chief end of education is not culture, but character. The Christian college is presided over by strong and virile Christian men and women, and only in such an atmosphere can Christian character be developed, for after all, character is propagated, not evolved. Education, as Dr. Butler puts it, includes sympathy with and penetration into science, art, literature, our political institutions and our religious life. Religious training, therefore, stands on a par with every other element that enters into education, nay, more—it stands superior to every other for it has to do with not only this life, but that which is to come. Because of the secularizing tendencies of to-day, it is imperative that the Presbyterian churches support and maintain their schools and colleges on a high standard."

Rev. John M. Vander Meulen, D. D., President of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Louisville, and recognized as one of the foremost educators in Kentucky, stressed the necessity for building up our institutions and pointed out the united effort on the part of both branches of the Presbyterian church to better conditions throughout the State. He said, in part, "we are met as Presbyterians, and we have many things of which we may be proud as Presbyterians. But that of which we may justly be proud is that we own an institution (Centre College) which has probably produced more distinguished men than any other denominational college in the country twice its size, or any State institution many times as large. And we are met as Christians to do the thing which Christ most wants us to do, and which His cause most needs—to further institutions like the college and seminary which shall train men to be Christians. Paris is the first one of the thirteen cities in Kentucky to be appealed to. Paris holds the proud position of leadership. Will Paris meet the challenge to the greatest opportunity that will ever be given the Presbyterians of this generation to do a big thing for Christ? I feel that this is a cause that appeals to the heart and pride of every Presbyterian in Kentucky."

As a climax of the interesting program came a telegram from the Rev. T. S. Smylie, who is recovering his health in the mountains of North Carolina. The message read: "Tell the people the pastor is counting on them to do their best in a great cause. Second Corinthians, seven, sixteen."

Mr. Peale Collier accepted the chairmanship of the Executive Committee upon being assured of the backing and support of the Presbyterians of Paris. The announcement of Mr. Collier's decision was received amid applause and many expressions of loyalty.

Features of the dinner were the decorations and elaborate menu under the direction of Mrs. Charles Duncan, assisted by the ladies of the church. Delightful music was furnished by an orchestra in charge of Miss Elizabeth Crutcher.

COURT NEWS

In the County Court Judge Geo. Batterton dismissed a writ of habeas corpus issued by Opal Harney against his wife, Mary Brown Harney, through the plaintiff's attorney, Judge Denis Dundon. The case excited a great deal of interest locally. Mrs. Harney was represented by E. M. Dickson. The Court, while dismissing the habeas corpus proceedings, refused to decree as to who would have the permanent care of the little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Harney, believing that such a decree should come through a court of equity.

THE BOOSTER TRIP AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS

"A success" was written unmistakably on the features of all who participated in the second annual invasion of the county precincts by the "Bourbon Boosters," who left Paris at an early hour Wednesday morning for a round-the-country swing in a trade-boasting jaunt. Forty-five gayly decorated machines, filled with enthusiastic "boosters" and their friends, both young and old, assembled in front of the court house at 7:45 Wednesday morning. After a short concert on the plaza by the Boys Band from the Odd Fellows Home at Lexington, the motorcade was formed in line of invasion, with Grand Marshal Rudolph Davis in charge, and getting well under way, left the city in a blaze of enthusiasm.

The first stop was made at Hutchison, where a small crowd had gathered in anticipation of the visit. A short talk was made by I. W. Bush, Paris representative of the Lexington Herald, and souvenirs were distributed to the spectators by the Paris merchants. The band rendered a number of selections, and after good-byes the motorcade moved on to the next stop, Clintonville, where Prof. Lee Kirkpatrick, superintendent of the Paris City Schools, was the principal speaker. The same program was followed out there, and the 'cade went on to North Middletown, where a genuine welcome awaited the "Boosters." Dr. Lot R. Henry delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by Sheriff M. Peale Collier, on behalf of the "Boosters. Here souvenirs were distributed and a musical program rendered by the band. At Little Rock a good-sized crowd greeted the visitors. Prof. B. M. Roberts, of Little Rock Consolidated School, gave the address of welcome, to which response was made by Wm. O. Hinton, of Paris.

From Little Rock the visitors journeyed to Millersburg, the largest town on the route, outside of Paris, and here a hearty welcome was extended by the largest crowd seen on the trip. Millersburg was the Mecca to which the tourists had been trekking, like an oasis in the desert, with visions of good things to eat, hearty hospitality and a feeling of "You are very welcome" radiating through the atmosphere. The Presbyterian people of the community, especially, were all there that hospitality could mean in the English language, and the boosters were made to feel perfectly at home. The ladies of the Presbyterian church had prepared a most appetizing luncheon, which was served on the grounds of the Millersburg Military Institute. Wm. D. McIntyre, Mayor of Millersburg, was the "Roxie Davis" of that city when it came to being everywhere at once and seeing that everything went on in good style, and that no one was slighted. The "boosters" were greeted here with an address of welcome delivered by Col. W. R. Nelson, Superintendent of the Institute, to which reply was made in a most eloquent speech by Virgil Chapman, Jr., of Paris.

Leaving Millersburg with genuine regret the party motored to Riddles Mills, where Attorney Raymond Connell addressed the crowd. At Shawhan Harold Harris, secretary of the Paris Commercial Club, was the speaker. Dr. M. H. Dailey at Jacksonsville, and M. Peale Collier at Centerville. Then the "boosters," tired, dusty and happy, motored back to the starting point, where, after a musical program by the Boys Band, the motorcade disbanded and the second annual "excursion" of the trade-boasters passed into history.

A total of 1,200 lambs were sold at the Lexington sales Wednesday afternoon, for an aggregate of $13,000, which is an average of about $10 a head. Henry Caywood, of North Middletown, made the following purchases: 250 lambs, averaging 76 pounds, at $13.10; 143 lambs averaging 70 pounds, at $13.05, and 139 lambs averaging 63 pounds at $11.05.

SOLOMON REDMON TAKES OWN LIFE

Following a long period of ill-health, and while in a despondent mood, superinduced by illness, Solomon Redmon, aged fifty-three, farmer, resident near Paris, took his own life yesterday morning by shooting himself through the heart with a double-barrel shotgun. The act showed premeditation and deliberation in its manner of execution.

Redmon had been drinking hard for some time, but had been persuaded by members of the family and others to stay at home in the country. He had been heard to remark that he was tired of going on in the manner he had been, and that it was a bad thing to be sick all the time. Yesterday morning he had been talking to his sister, Mrs. Castle Redmon, with whom he resided, and stated that he was feeling very sick. Mrs. Redmon tried to cheer him up, but the despondent man seemed to see no relief. Mr. Redmon and son were at work in a barn some distance from the house. When Mrs. Redmon left to go to some other part of the house, Redmon went into the house and secured a shotgun, went out into the yard. Placing the gun to his breast he fired the contents of one barrel, which took effect in his left breast, piercing the heart and causing instant death. Hearing the shot Mrs. Redmon, her husband and son ran to the yard and found Mr. Redmon dead.

Coroner Rudolph Davis was summoned, and after conducting an investigation, decided an inquest unnecessary, the facts of self-destruction being too evident.

Redmon was a son of the late Washington and Rebecca Ashurst Redmon, who resided at the old home place near Paris. He inherited the place, which he sold some time ago, and went to live with his sister. He was a man with a large circle of friends who regret his untimely end.

The funeral will be held from the residence of Castle Redmon. Services will be conducted at the grave in the Paris Cemetery at 3:30 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon, conducted by Rev. Arthur Fox, pastor of the Paris Baptist church. The pall-bearers will be Jos. Redmon, Tom Collier, Redmon Lair, John Lair, Leslie Wheeler and John Marston.

WANDA HAWLEY, IN "A TRUTHFUL LIAR"

Who killed Potts? Or Smith, or Brown or Jones, or any of the hundreds who yearly fall victims of the secret assassin's hand?

That is the eternal fascination of the mystery picture. A problem to solve—this is what holds the breathless interest, and this is what you will find in "The Truthful Liar," Wanda Hawley's new Rea-lart picture which will be shown Monday afternoon at the Alamo and at the Grand at night.

Few know the American public's taste, whether in reading, drama or screen entertainment, better than Will Payne, noted novelist. So when he came to write his first original screen story, starring Wanda Hawley, he based his dramatic climax upon the most compelling of all situations—the mysterious killing of a man.

Miss Hawley is supported in this picture by Edward Hearn, Casson Ferguson, Chas. A. Stevenson, Geo. Seigmann, Lloyd Whitlock and E. A. Warren.

A RARE PLANT

John Cahal is the proud possessor of a rare plant, the night-blooming cereus, an oddity in the flower kingdom, which attracts a great deal of attention at his home. The flower blooms but one a year, generally at midnight, the bloom retaining its fragrance and beauty but a short time. The flower in bloom was seen by a limited circle of Mr. Cahal's friends.

RED CROSS MEETING

The Executive Committee of the local Red Cross Chapter held a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the County Court room to discuss plans for a dental clinic which the organization hopes to conduct. No definite action was taken, but a committee was appointed to confer with the dentists and report at the next meeting, on September 5.

THE STRIKE SITUATION

There has been little or no change locally in the strike situation, and very little has happened worthy of recording. Several striking shopmen have returned to their former position in the local shops, but the other men are holding out, firm in their determination to continue so. Guards are maintained at points where the L. & N.'s property interests are large. There has been no disorder, and both sides are determined to maintain law and order as best conserving their interests.

Placards announcing a reward of $5,000 for the conviction of any person tampering with the Louisville and Nashville railroad rails, tunnels, bridges, or other road equipment, and an additional $1,000 for persons caught tampering with engines in the yards have been posted by the L. & N. authorities at points along the local lines, in the freight and passenger stations, and other places near the yards.
